Dear Friend:

Tuesday, July 4th, is our anniversary of American freedom; the Negro National League fittingly brings to Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn both a great war loan rally and an equally sensational doubleheader.

On that day the New York Cuban Stars and the Newark Eagles, contenders for first place in the League, battle at Ebbetts Field in a doubleheader. Both teams scintillate with baseball's greatest stars.

Equally starring on that day's program will be Mrs. Margaret Brown, 5th War Loan chairman for Brooklyn, whose committee will sell its bond quota to help buy the liberty ship "Harriet V. Tubman," named after the famed underground railway heroine of pre-civil war days. George E. Wibecan, noted fraternal and civic leader, will lead the bond selling between games. Cooperating in this great sporting event and patriotic celebration is the Exalted Ruler of the Brooklyn Elks, Hubert Brown.

Come out for a day of baseball pleasure and also serve your country by taking part in the great bond rally on July 4th.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS T. WILSON, Pres.
Negro National League
